

Anton Romanov was born in 1985 in Crimea. Currently he lives in Kyiv. Anton is a professional stage director, he has been working in his professional field for more than 10 years. He has started doing performances a year ago.

"Performance became my response to self censorship in Ukrainian State Theatre that is unwilling to react to the events in the country like if the revolution and the war in the East part of the country don't exist."

"It's not your blood",
The author's blood on paper.

