

Roman Osminkin

is a Saint Petersburg based poet, performer and video-artist. Osminkin combines video-poems (distributing the poetic word in three dimensions) and more aggressive interventions into public space. This poster is designed for printing as well as sticking in different public places. Osminkin offers not only the demand of the abolition of censorship, but insists on positive censorship - grassroots guerrillas censorship.